Local Answering Service Partners With Using People

LAFAYETTE, LA - Aileen Bennett, speaker, author and coach, is pleased to partner with Dexcomm, an answering service based in Louisiana, to bring two performances of Using People - The Experience to Cité des Arts on April 8.

This marks the second partnership between Bennett and Dexcomm, who sponsored Bennett's "Using People" book launch last year. "Dexcomm has a powerful mission of helping the world connect one message at a time. It's a privilege to be able to partner with someone that shares the same core values and outlook of the world."

Using People started as a speech, became a book and has now evolved into 'the Experience'. Bennett has added a stage, actors, special effects, networking and plenty of unexpected bonuses.

There are two performances of this people-centric, morality-based, humorous, cynical, motivational event. The first will be a lunchtime performance focusing on Using People for business and an evening performance for Using People for whatever you want. The lunchtime performance includes lunch and networking, and the evening performance features a cocktail hour.

Tickets to both performances as well as more information on each can be found by visiting usingpeople.com.

Using People

Using People turns timeless phrases inside out, offering insights that help improve business and personal relationships. Through witty phrasing and comedic timing, Bennett cleverly asks you to consider talking about people behind their backs, judging books by their cover, lying to yourself and giving up on your dreams. A little shocking. A little humorous. Very insightful. Using People gives you new perspectives on life, relationships, business and more.

Aileen Bennett

Aileen Bennett is a recovering designer turned cynical speaker. She delights and enlightens audiences with classic English wit, modern style and a sense of knowing that makes you feel like the universe sent her to speak directly to you. And according to Bennett, it did. Her bulletproof enthusiasm continues to inspire others to live happier, more fulfilling lives. For more information on Aileen, visit usingpeople.com.

Dexcomm

Dexcomm is a national messaging center and has been in operation since 1954. Dexcomm's mission is helping the world connect, one message at a time. Their employees know they are a vital link between their customers and their callers. Every day they connect people needing help to the ones who can provide them help. They are the message experts, but their deeper purpose is helping people. For more information about Dexcomm and their services visit Dexcomm.com.
